

Katie Krause, a senior at Delaware Valley High School, is this year's class president who has her goals set high. Krause is one of the student representatives on the School Board. Furthermore, she is a member of TATU, FBLA and Student Council. She has been honored numerous times as a Student of the Month. Krause is also a standout in the Drama Club. Last year she was the "Leading Lady" of DV Drama's "How to Succeed in Business without Really Trying." In 2011, Krause was one of the Hugh O'Brien Youth Leadership Seminar delegates. "Being involved has affected me by exposing myself to many different students, teachers, and people who have made an impact in some way to my life," Krause said. She also volunteers for Pennies for Patients, CROP walk, food pantry, and the local nursing home. "I'd like to be remembered as a hardworking, driven, and kind student who was actively involved in making Delaware Valley students united," she said.

Delaware Valley's Lucas Markowitz has not only received attention on the football field, but he is also expected to have a tremendous year on the wrestling mats. Markowitz is a member of the varsity football, wrestling and lacrosse teams. This standout senior is also a standout student. Markowitz is a member of the Athletic Leadership Committee and Student Council. He is also a member of the Sportsmanship Committee. He volunteers his time for Relay for Life, Teens Against Tobacco Use, Special Olympics and multiple children's sports' camps. "My school activities have provided me with the opportunity to make great friends and memories," he said. "My coaches have been supportive and encouraged me throughout high school and have taught me so much about life and are great role models." Markowitz is hoping to attend either Manhattanville, Western New England or Wagner.
