

For the week of September 17, 2012

Carla Centanni, a senior at Delaware Valley High School, is enjoying being involved. Centanni is a member of the National Honor Society and the National Business Honor Society. She is also a member of FBLA, Rachel's Challenge, TATU (Teens Against Tobacco Use), Mu Alpha Theta Mathematical Honor Society. Centanni is this year's secretary of Student Council as well. "Being involved in school makes me feel closer to my school," she said. Centanni is also a member of the lacrosse team and the winter cheerleading squad. In the little spare time she has, she is also a PAYAL cheerleading coach and a lacrosse Recreation League volunteer. "I would like to be remembered as someone who is involved," she said.

---

Delaware Valley senior linebacker Josh Edelman is the true mix of student and athlete. Edelman has been recognized as an AP scholar with honors. Also, he is a member of National Honor Society, Mu Alpha Theta Mathematics Honor Society, FBLA, Teens Against Tobacco Use and the Athletic Leadership Council. He is also a member of the varsity track and field team. "I believe that being involved has made me a better student," he said. "It has provided me with leadership opportunities that will be beneficial for my future." On the football field, Edelman has posted 11 tackles and forced a key fumble. Head coach Keith Olsommer said, "Josh has very good work ethic – on the field and in classroom. He out-works and out-smarts his opponents. He is such a positive role model for the younger kids in our program. He is the type of young man who coaches want in their programs." Edelman also volunteers for the United Way, Relay for Life, GAIT and the Special Olympics. "I want to be remembered as a leader, a dedicated student and a team player," Edelman concluded.