

Former Delaware Valley School Board member Jim Mooney presented an idea to the current School Board members in July. This idea was to provide recognition for the national and state awards the school district has achieved over the past few years.

He also wanted to thank the students, staff, parents and tax payers for their role in achieving this national success. The current DV School Board agreed to place recognition banners at each main entrance of each school building reminding everyone of the importance of our success as a school district but also as a thank you for the hard work.

On Sept. 28, the DVE-TV crew interviewed Mr. Mooney during their morning broadcast about one of the new banners located in front of the DVES building. This group is led by Mrs. Sharon Siegel, instructional assistant at Delaware Valley Elementary School.

Pictured from left to right: Superintendent Mr. John Bell, former School Board member Mr. Jim Mooney, project manager Mr. Chris Lordi and State Representative Mrs. Rosemary Brown